(X) Enclosure to sl.(3) below.

Sir,

I am directed to invite a reference to the correspondence ending with paragraph 3 of this office letter No. (X) 4784, dated the 25th August 1905, regarding the construction and maintenance of telegraph and telephone lines in Native States.

2. This subject has recently been under further consideration, and I am to communicate, for the information of the Durbar , the following principles which have been laid down by the Government of India as the basis of the policy to be observed -in this matter, in future:-

(1) Private lines, whether telegraph or telephone (i,e., lines not used by the public and not worked for gain), may be constructed in a Native State without the previous sanction of the Government of India: provided that;-

(a) the line shall not pass beyond the boundary of the State concerned,

(b) the construction and any subsequent addition to the system shall be notified to the Government of India and a sketch map of the line furnished, and

(c) no private telephone line shall be permitted to run into an Imperial Telegraph Office. A private telegraph line may, however, be permitted to do so, on the condition that a deposit account is kept by the State at the office for transmission of telegrams over the Imperial system:
